

MCI planning to assist ammo plant employees after expected lay-offs

BY DENA BISNETTE

Reports that the U.S. Army Ammunition Plant at John C. Stennis Space Center will not get the $90 million appropriation it needs to stay open are being met with preparations to assist laid-off employees.

Robert Burns, a communications supervisor for Mason Chamberlain, Inc., the contractor currently operating the facility, said he does not expect final word on the closing until next week.

The House Armed Services committee turned down the $90 million appropriation, but Burns said plant officials are "guardedly optimistic" because there are still other committees looking at the matter. The House Appropriations Committee is expected to consider the bill next week.

Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney notified Congressman Gene Taylor last week that the plant has no contracts for 1990 and should be prepared for lay-off in April.

If the $90 million is not approved, lay-offs should begin about April 19, Burns stated. "How many? We're not sure. We do know that over the next four or five months the number of people here would go down from 1,700 to 400," he stated.

"MCI is setting up a placement service for the employees to help them get resumes together and look for jobs elsewhere," he said, adding that the company would supply subscriptions to local and national publications that might list jobs appropriate for the qualifications plant workers have. A task force to help will also be organized.

Burns said the personnel currently working at the ammo plant are mostly production operators, equipment service technicians, draftsmen, chemists, management personnel, supervisors and production line foremen.

"We're all disappointed. I definitely am, and I'm one of that 1,700," Burns commented. "We're not real pleased, but with the situation in eastern Europe and the need for defense budget cuts, we were really not expecting anything favorable," he added.

One hope for the workers was more time if a contract with South Korea had been awarded to the plant. That time before the anticipated lay-offs would have been used to help find a private sector business to take over the facility.

The Mississippi Economic Development Authority had agreed to help with the project.

Burns said officials are now concerned that workers will have to relocate if the plant closes without another business to take over, and that anyone who does eventually use the facility will have to go through a learning and training period that would have been unnecessary had the Mason Chamberlain workers been retained.

Landfill permit granted

BY DENA BISNETTE

A permit for Hancock County's proposed landfill at Standard has been granted by the Mississippi Bureau of Pollution Control.

Hancock County Maintenance Superintendent Sam

Cuevas stated that he and engineer Lloyd Compton, who was hired by the county to prepare the permit application, met with bureau officials earlier this week and "we have the permit in hand."

Compton will make a presentation at today's board meeting on the details of the permit, which Cuevas said is contingent upon the county's compliance with federal wetlands mitigation requirements.

Under that set of requirements, which require a separate document known as a 404 permit, the county has to construct 15 acres of wetlands to make up for disturbance of 10 acres of wetlands on the proposed landfill site.

Those 15 acres are to be constructed somewhere in the landfill's buffer zone, Cuevas explained.

Board President Ronald Cuevas commented briefly on obtaining the permit, stating that he feels having the permit granted to the county exempts the Standard site from any moratorium against new landfill permits.

Ronald Cuevas had stated last week that he understood a proposed moratorium had cleared part of the legislative process and was expected to be passed.

The board president added that he felt the permit was granted largely due to the cooperative attitude the county showed in closing the old county landfill at Catahoula, which was closed more than a year ago.

He also pointed out that Hancock County officials did not attempt to bypass state and federal regulations when closing the original landfill.

Sam Cuevas said he could not provide either a cost estimate or a projected construction time on the new landfill.

The cost estimates are expected to change because a new requirement, construction of a dam that will hold rainwater, has been added.

interest free over the next three years. "He likes the city and the people and he wanted them to have it," Longo said. He also donated two houses in Waveland to the Masonic Children's Hospital, according to Gex. (Echo staff photo by D.C. Harvill)

Franckiewicz proposing amendment to SB1498

BY DENA BISNETTE

State Senator Victor Franckiewicz Jr. is planning a meeting to discuss an amendment to an appropriations bill Mississippi Employment Security Commission officials say will allow the agency to keep its smaller offices open.

Franckiewicz stated Wednesday, "I have no problem with what they're doing; my big problem is with the bizarre way they're doing it."

He said he feels the language in the proposed Senate Bill 1498, which was reported out of the Senate Labor Committee Wednesday afternoon, fails to adequately explain why $5 million would be appropriated to make up for about $1.4 million in federal cuts Employment Security Commission officials claim have caused the closing of 32 of its itinerant offices and could cause the closing of the rest of them and some county offices as well.

The itinerant offices are staffed once each week by personnel from regional offices. Hancock County has one of the county offices, open five days each week and staffed by two people, which keeps residents from having to go to a regional office in Biloxi to look for work or process unemployment claims.

Franckiewicz said the itinerant offices process 53 percent of all claims turned into the commission, but the funding cut would only amount to 10 percent.

"I am in favor of keeping these offices open," he said. "I have two of them in my district."

"But, I have serious problems with the bill as it is now."

The meeting he is arranging will be with Employment Security Commission members and leaders of the Mississippi Manufacturers Association, which represents about 1,200 major employers statewide. The group is opposed to the bill in its present form.

He wants their input for an amendment he plans to propose when the bill, a companion bill to House Bill 2710, reaches the senate floor next week.

Franckiewicz is alleging that a lot of the closures were not

Board approves no changes in Bay valedictorian policy

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School Board plans to appoint a committee to discuss how Bay High's valedictorian and salutatorian should be chosen in the future.

The valedictorian and salutatorian are the seniors with the two highest cumulative grade averages in the school. However, at Bay High, students who have transferred from other schools after the beginning of the ninth grade may not compete due to a residency requirement.

The matter was first brought before the board at its December meeting by the Rev. Van Carpenter, parent of a senior who transferred into the district after the ninth grade.

Carpenter asked that the policy be changed because, in today's mobile society, excluding students from the competition simply because their families have moved is, in his opinion, unfair.

He addressed the board again Monday night, asking that they consider changing the policy or at least finding some way to honor the ineligible high achievers at graduation and explain to them why they could not be considered for valedictorian.

He said the current policy was not written down and was apparently a custom of the school board rather than a mandate, and "dims the young people's morals and intellectual enthusiasm."

Joan Thomas, one of the Bay High teachers and senior class sponsor, had a different opinion. She feels the policy should remain consistent at least with the students who have already entered the ninth grade, and that anything new should be phased in so that the "rules aren't changed in the middle of the game."

She found the policy in the student handbook under which the current seniors started the ninth grade and, upon investigation, discovered it had not been discontinued in practice but had been left out of subsequent handbooks due to an error of the committee compiling the book.

Thomas also cited the problem

Mississippi Power schedules Sunday power outage

Mississippi Power Company has scheduled an interruption of electric service Sunday, Feb. 18 from 4 a.m. to 8 a.m. in Waveland.

The outage will affect customers on Waveland Avenue and portions of streets which intersect Waveland Avenue between Central Avenue on the south and up to and including Spruce Street on the north.

Also affected will be Sears Avenue and portions of streets which intersect either Sears or Waveland avenues and the area bounded by Central Avenue on the north, Vacation Lane on the east, Grand Bayou on the west, and Beach Boulevard on the south.

The outage is necessary for crews to perform maintenance on an area substation.

In case of inclement weather, the outage will be rescheduled for Feb. 25 from 4 a.m. to 8 a.m.

RIBBON CUTTING

Gulf Coast Recycling will have a ribbon-cutting ceremony to celebrate its grand opening at 10 a.m. Saturday. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited. The recycling operation is located on US-90 across from Waveland Small Animal Hospital.

All participants must be registered by Feb. 21.

GUNNERY SERGEANTS HENRY PARKER AND JOHN SHERMAN

Bay Marine commended for service

United States Marine Corps Gunnery Sergeant Henry G. Parker of Bay St. Louis and John D. Sherman of Buckley, Mich. were recognized for their culinary talents in providing "messing facilities" for the 1st Aviation Battalion of the Virginia Defense Force.

The two, along with their supporting mess personnel in Marine Medium Squadron 261, were engaged in a terrorist suppression exercise at Fort Pickett, Blackstone, Va. when assigned the additional food responsibilities.

"From soup to home baked sheet cakes, iced and decorated, we the Virginia Defense Force (the original state militia, first formed in 1608) haven't eaten better since anyone can remember," said Warrant Officer G. L. Smith said.

"It was a truly remarkable performance of making a little go a long way," he said.

MILITARY MENTIONS

SEAMAN MORENO

Navy Seaman Recruit Vincent F. Moreno, whose wife, Laura, is the daughter of Billy D. and Marietta McSpadden of Bay St. Louis, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During Moreno's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Moreno's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

AIRMAN GOVAN

Airman LaSundra M. Govan was graduated from the U.S. Air Force law enforcement specialist course at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Graduates of the course studied general law enforcement duties, tactics, weapons training, physical apprehension and restraint and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Govan is the daughter of the Rev. Barney B. and Mary W. Govan of Pass Christian.

She is a 1986 graduate of Pass Christian High School.

SEAMAN REESE

Navy Seaman Recruit Stephen C. Reese, son of Marion E. Reese of Pass Christian, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego.

During Reese's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Reese's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

E. Michael Necaise, better known as Mike or "Go-Go" Necaise, will have his basketball jersey number 24 retired at William Carey College on Monday night. This will not be a new honor for Mike, because in 1967 his basketball jersey number 14 was retired at Bay Senior High.

I feel this is a great honor for Mike, and want to congratulate him on his latest recognition.

Mike's basketball abilities have been followed closely by many Hancock Countians from junior high through college.

His honors have been many over the years, and among the most prestigious have been high school and college All American honors.

Mike broke numerous records as a high school and college player, many of which are still intact.

While Mike still has the height of his college days, it seems he has added a little weight to the frame, especially around the middle.

One resident thinks he may still have a basketball stuffed under his shirt, as it was rumored he even slept with one while a student at Bay High.

A local attorney always refers to Mike as "Slam Dunk." I think this is because of the jumping ability he had in years gone by.

His latest effort in basketball has been the teaching of sons Micah and Brian.

Micah just completed his high school career at Bay High, while brother Brian still has two years at his father's high school alma mater.

I know Mike's wife of 20 years must be proud of her husband's basketball achievements, and has been for many years, as they were sweethearts in school.

Being known Mike over the years, even with the children, I know he will still be the same Hancock County booster as he has always been.

My sincere congratulations to a very deserving Hancock Countian.

Members of the Bay High band are a proud and dedicated group of young men and women.

The Sea Coast Echo's Bay High band members will hold a car wash on Saturday, Feb. 17, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Kmart parking lot.

Proceeds from the car wash are to be used for the band's expenses.

Weather has contributed in recent months to cause autos to become rather muddy, and this will be a good opportunity to have them washed and make a donation to a worthy group.

I hope to see you at the car wash.

March Ones in the area gets underway on Saturday with the Krewe of Kids parade in the Cedar Grove area.

The parade's headquarters are at North Bay Elementary School and begins at 1 p.m.

The parade is designed for the youngsters and no motor vehicles are allowed. I know the youngsters will have a good time each year in this parade.

The Krewe of the Nereids parade scheduled for Sunday begins at 2 p.m.

The parade will roll down U.S. 90 from the Choctawhatchee Shopping Center, Waveland, beginning at 2 p.m. I hope to see you at the parades.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Senator Thad Cochran

Cochran hails passage of literacy legislation

Sen. Thad Cochran praised the passage of national literacy legislation containing provisions he proposed that would assist states in Mississippi.

Cochran, a member of the Senate Education panel, commented that passage of the National Literacy Act (S. 1310) "is a positive step toward providing upgraded programs and resources to combat illiteracy."

He noted the legislation authorizes his proposal for giving priority in awarding library literacy grants to areas with the greatest concentrations of adults without secondary education and with high levels of unemployment.

"The cost of illiteracy to the nation is enormous," Cochran said, "resulting in low productivity, accidents, employee error, and costly remedial training programs. Costs have been estimated as high as $200 billion annually in lost productivity alone."

He further stated that family literacy is very important, saying, "I firmly believe that preventive measures with children and corrective measures with adults must be taken if we are to become a truly literate nation."

Senator Cochran also noted the bill authorizes library literacy centers to provide states with support for development of innovative library literacy programs, especially for adults.

The bill also would provide grants for video material for libraries and television stations to utilize in adult literacy education. These are features similar to his earlier proposals in these fields.

The Senator concluded by praising the leadership of President and Mrs. Bush in combating illiteracy, saying "the administration and the Congress agreed to make the battle against illiteracy a top national priority."

S. 1310, which the Senator is co-sponsoring, passed unanimously in a Senate vote.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Moore attempts to revive initiative, referendum rights

Depend on Atty. Gen. Mike Moore to take on the tough issues. Now he has set out to revive "people power" which was taken away from Mississippians 68 years ago.

"People power" is the right of initiative and referendum—the power of citizens to bypass the Legislature and petition to put proposed laws or constitutional amendments on the ballot or to nullify legislative enactments by a referendum vote. Over 30 states now have some form of initiative and/or referendum.

Mississippians had that power from 1916 to 1922 under a constitutional amendment to Section 33 ratified by the voters in 1911.

But the state Supreme Court, after upholding it in a 1917 test case, reversed itself by a 3-2 vote in 1922 and declared in a highly questionable ruling that initiative and referendum was invalid because it should have been submitted as two amendments.

The issue has lain dormant virtually ever since, except for occasional spurts of interest, including a threat four years ago by then-Gov. Bill Allain to run a court test case to revive the 1914 amendment.

Allain had in mind seeking repeal of the constitutional ban on gubernatorial succession if the Legislature failed to address it. His move became moot when the Legislature submitted gubernatorial succession to the voters in 1986.

Several weeks ago, Moore and the AG's staff began researching the legal route to put the initiative and referendum issue back before the Supreme Court in hopes of having the 1922 ruling overturned.

Moore was looking for a "volatile" issue to be used as a vehicle to rally support for an initiative petition.

He didn't have to look far. Last week, the most volatile issue in the state in years—a public demand for repeal of the ban on lotteries in the 1890 state Constitution—became Moore's vehicle.

Already in the works was an initiative petition drive by two state representatives, Oliver Diaz of Biloxi and Ray Vecchio of Gautier, to put the lottery on the ballot as test to revive the 1914 amendment.

A year or so ago, Diaz and Vecchio had tried to get 7,500 signatures—the number required for an initiative petition under the 1914 amendment—on a petition for a constitutional convention, but they came up short.

Last week after blank petitions were passed out at a pro-lottery rally at the state Capitol, the lottery petitions were going like wildfire around the state. Veterans organizations and other groups whose bingo games have been put in jeopardy by Moore's lawsuit attacking bingo as a lottery were strongly behind the petition movement.

Diaz said last weekend he expected to have "far more than the 7,500 signatures we need" before the end of this week, and would immediately present them to Secretary of State Dick Molpus.

Molpus would be expected to reject the petitions in view of the 1922 Supreme Court case, thereby setting up the court test. Moore then would immediately take up the cause for the petitioners under a mandamus.

REPORT FROM THE SENATE

by Sen. Vic Franckiewicz Jr.

Senate tackles 300 bills over two-week period

Over the last two weeks, the Senate tackled nearly 300 bills reported out of committee. The educational reform was the most important bill. I think it is appropriate to devote this whole column to the Senate's version of Governor Mabus' BEST proposal.

The bill runs the gamut from rewarding excellence to keeping at-risk students from dropping out. It gives everyone a chance to contribute: parents, school boards, teachers, administrators, junior colleges, universities and the general public all will have an opportunity to make a difference in our educational system.

Here are the major innovations of this comprehensive legislation:

*extends compulsory school attendance to cover all children between five and 17 years old.

*removes grade-level designations for grades one through three and places students in flexible groups to progress at their performance level rather than their age.

*authorizes establishment of a three-trimester school year in kindergarten through grade six, the third trimester being a summer session which would be mandatory for those with unsatisfactory progress in the first two trimesters.

*establishes a program of financial rewards for schools which improve and excel.

*requires family literacy and workplace literacy programs.

*authorizes funds for every student to have daily access to one hour of technology-based instruction such as computers.

A reasonable fee may be charged.

*requires a comprehensive screening program for three- and four-year-olds to detect health problems and disabilities which could impair their later progress in school.

*moves the Functional Literacy Exam from the 11th to the ninth grade.

*to emphasize academics, school-sponsored athletic events are prohibited on a school day immediately preceding a statewide test or local school term test.

*requires programs to reduce the dropout rate.

*allows the suspension of driver's license for persons under 18 who drop out of school.

*requires teachers in grades seven through 12 to have a major in an academic field other than education.

*places certificated school district employees under the state group life and health insurance plan.

*provides procedures for voluntary school consolidation. The provisions regarding district and school sizes which would have mandated consolidation in some cases were removed from the bill.

The cost of the Senate version of this bill for the first year is $95.2 million. The funding issue is still to be addressed.

Several tax proposals have been discussed, along with reviving the lottery, taxing bingo, and legalizing/taxing video poker machines. In my view, we haven't yet looked hard enough at the option of reducing the scope of state government and using the savings to fund education.

The House of Representatives is currently working on its own version of education reform. After the House passes its proposal, the bills will be sent to a conference committee to work out the differences.

I would be glad to hear your views on any issues. You may write to me at the Mississippi State Senate P.O. Box 1018, Jackson, MS 39215-1018 or call 359-3770. On weekends, I can be reached at home at 467-2399.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

Image improvement for state begins at home

The state's Department of Community and Economic Development has announced plans for an expanded, external image-improvement effort. And who would argue the merits of such a program? Mississippi does, indeed, need to improve its national image.

Not to be overlooked, however, is the need to continue efforts to encourage Mississippians to think better of themselves.

That's what the Mississippi Economic Council's "Look Around, Mississippi" program is about—improving the image internally.

At least 35 communities are already enrolled in the MEC program, and most of those are well along in planning for special image-improvement celebrations through the year.

Meanwhile, MEC will be launching a second phase of the "Look Around, Mississippi" program this spring. This phase focuses on the schools and Mississippi's school children. They will be offered instructional information and materials about the state and will be encouraged to take pride in their own communities.

A first step in the state's image effort is to discover the unique qualities and characteristics of Mississippi, to take a new pride in the state, to feel better about ourselves.

Every community in Mississippi, and every school in every community, should be enthusiastic participants in the Mississippi Economic Council's "Look Around, Mississippi" program.

Nereids, Krewe of Kids parades to roll Saturday, Sunday

BY D.C. HARVILL
Bay St. Louis and Waveland will be treated to two Mardi Gras parades this weekend. The Krewe of Kids, a children's parade, will roll through the streets of Bay St. Louis' Cedar Point community at 1 p.m. Saturday with Mayor Edward A. "Eddie" Favre as Grand Marshal. The parade begins at North Bay Elementary School on Dunbar Avenue and travels to Boardman Avenue where it goes to A Street then to Leonhard Street and back to Dunbar and North Bay. Sunday at 2 p.m., the Krewe of Nereids will present their 24th annual parade, which will begin at Choctaw Plaza on U.S. 90 in Waveland. The parade will travel east along the highway to the Bay St. Louis line where it will turn west and travel to Our Shopping Center. The theme for this year's event is "Nereids Visits Oz".

Parade chairman Jeannette Handshoe promises the floats will be the best ever. "Children will especially enjoy the costumes," she said, noting live props will be prominently featured on the floats to ensure visibility. Approximately 100 entries have been received, including many old favorites. Marching bands will include Bay Senior High School, St. Stanislaus, Hancock North Central, Pearl River Community College and Mercy Cross, who recently won first place in New Orleans parade band competition. The award-winning Mississippi All-Stars baton twirling marchers will participate, in addition to marching groups from St. Clare and Bay Catholic Elementary Schools and the popular "Hat People". Other entries include a float featuring news anchors from WLOX-TV and the WZKX Power 108 radio van.

FHA increased mortgage limits will aid homebuyers

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has announced an increase in the maximum amount HUD will insure on single family home loans.

The change is effective January 12, 1990, for the following counties in Mississippi:
County New Limits
Harrison and Hancock $84,850
Jackson $81,800

This increase in mortgage limits will make FHA insured loans available to many prospective home purchasers who were previously excluded from participation due to lower mortgage limits.

The interest rate available on an FHA insured loan is generally lower than the conventional interest rate, and downpayment requirements for FHA insured mortgages are less than those required for conventional loans.

CHRISTENING

Rev. Ruby Shumake, pastor of St. Mark's Ame Church in Waveland, announces the christening of her grandson, Lorenzo Dean Frederick, Sunday, Feb. 18 at 11 a.m. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

lem of how to handle a student entering the ninth grade with a better-than-perfect average, which would give them a head start on the valedictorian and salutatorian competition. All students enter with a 4.0, or a perfect A, in the Bay St. Louis-Waveland District, but students who have done accelerated work in other districts may have starting averages of as high as 4.75. Thomas asked how the board would handle that kind of inequity.

She checked with the Hancock County School District, which she said has a requirement of two years' residency but may reconsider that based on any change that may be made at Bay High; St. Stanislaus, which requires four years for eligibility, and some of the nearby military schools including Keesler, which also requires four years.

A compromise proposal was offered by board member Charles Benvenuti, who said two valedictorians should be chosen for the current school year with one salutatorian.

That proposal died for lack of a second after Thomas showed the board a newspaper clipping commending both a valedictorian and a student who had had a higher average but was a transfer and was not eligible. The board opted instead to stay with the current policy for the 1989-90 school term.

The board's next regular meeting will be at 7 p.m. March 12 in the administrative offices on Carroll Avenue.

proceeding brought in Hinds County Circuit Court.

Because of the constitutional question involved, the case would quickly wind up before the state Supreme Court, where such issues are given top priority.

Moore's staff has already prepared the lawsuit for filing and is in process of writing the briefs in the case. He is shooting at getting the case through the legal process in time to put the lottery question on the November ballot.

"This has very little to do with the lottery," Moore said. "the lottery is just the vehicle. I want the right of people to vote if the Legislature refuses to give them the chance to vote on these issues."

"I don't think the people of Mississippi are dumb. They're pretty smart and if they are given half a chance, they'll make the right decision."

Moore is also optimistic that the lawsuit to reverse the 1922 ruling and reinstate initiative and referendum will find a favorable forum in the present Supreme Court.

In a 1988 case, Burrell v. Mississippi State Tax Commission, Associate Justice Aramis Hawkins specifically stated in an opinion that it was his view the court was wrong in 1922 when it held that the initiative and referendum amendment was constitutionally flawed.

So "people power" may make a comeback after all these years. That would certainly send shock waves through the Legislature.

"Pollution refugees" take their message on the road

BY D.C. HARVILL
Hancock County is relatively pollution free and we owe it to ourselves to keep it that way, says a couple who are on the road spreading warnings about the hazards of pollution.

In 1981, after watching their neighbors die at early ages and their own family suffer endlessly with health problems due to pollution in their community, know what was causing it. We were just like every body else—ignorant of what was going on," Teri Naugler said.

The family first suspected their problems were being caused by something in their community when their health problems were lessened on a vacation to Florida only to resume as soon as they returned to Billerica.

At that time the Nauglers began looking more closely at their surroundings. It did not take long for them to discover several hazardous waste dumps near their homes and to realize chemical plants in the area were polluting the air.

"At first we thought we would be able to stay in our home, but when we both, at the same time, began bleeding from the rectum and couldn't walk five hundred feet without becoming exhausted we realized we had to leave," Mrs. Naugler said.

The Nauglers' long-term exposure to the combination of chemicals in Billerica has left their immune systems greatly diminished. Today when subjected to pollution, even in small amounts, they become seriously ill.

"Louisiana and New Orleans were really bad for us. But this area is amazingly pollution free. We hope to return and spend about six months here when we get a chance," said Mrs. Naugler.

The couple originally had planned to visit New Orleans to give their mail time to arrive at a location further along their route, but the poor air quality forced them to drive straight through.

The Nauglers' schedule is full for the next year as they travel from Mississippi to Florida and eventually to Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, spreading their message at every opportunity and gathering information which will be included in a book Mrs. Naugler has nearly completed.

"It is the responsibility of each of us to change things. The government, science and industry do not care," Teri Naugler said.

'Pollution refugees' Teri and Steve Naugler

Steve and Teri Naugler were forced to flee their home in North Billerica, Massachusetts. They have since been traveling around the United States alerting people to pollution dangers and meeting fellow "pollution refugees."

"We can't live in any more," said Steve Naugler. The Nauglers moved to North Billerica in 1972, at the same time as the five other families in the neighborhood. After about 15 years, the area was found to be a dying neighborhood.

"There were 11 families and 508," Teri Naugler said. In six houses on the Nauglers' street there were six deaths, six people had tumors, six suffered nervous breakdowns, two required amputations and everyone was plagued by a lengthy list of health problems.

While living in the polluted neighborhood, the Nauglers were spared the tragedy of death but their family was not untouched.

The Nauglers and their four children experienced respiratory ailments, skin problems, and when their daughter was two years old her hair fell out and has never regrown.

"All those years we didn't ter until it can be cleaned of pollutants, is expected to be added to the design.

The construction schedule is a decision for the board of supervisors to make, he said.

In the meantime, construction of convenience centers, manned sites with closed containers for household garbage, will continue.

The county is presently working on two of them, the maintenance superintendent said, and they will replace some of the dumpsters for which the county presently contracts.

Ronald Cuevas said the convenience centers are expected to remain open after the new landfill opens to keep some county residents from having to travel to Standard.

The board meeting begins at 9 a.m. in the upstairs boardroom of the Hancock County Courthouse.

By 1968 black activism was increasingly met with a violent and sometimes unethical response from local and federal law enforcement agencies.

STOLEN PROPERTY

A Bay St. Louis man was arrested Wednesday and charged with a parole violation and receiving stolen property.

John Joseph Dedeaux, 22, 623 Kellar Street, was arrested by Bay St. Louis Police with $3316 worth of merchandise stolen from Bay High School Gymnasium Friday night. A total of $4580 of sports clothing and equipment were taken in the burglary, according to Detective Tom Burlison.

Among items recovered were two pairs of basketball shoes, 10 tank top shirts, seven carry bags and a VCR power box. Assisting in the arrest were Chief Robert Lee and James Whitson of the Mississippi Department of Corrections.

Due to parole violation, Dedeaux is being held without bond, Burlison said.

Whether you're a sweets maker "from scratch" as the saying goes, or one who prefers the quick-and-easy route, be sure that you take advantage of all the specials offered, and get busy!

To get you in the mood, Jitney Jungle offers large eggs at bargain prices; cooking oil is featured at Winn-Dixie, and shortening at Jitney. Delchamps offers raisins at a bargain price—and sour cream and cottage cheese and cream and all that are in full supply at area stores—as well as cake mixes and frostings of all sorts, just waiting for your individual touch.

As for meat, I'm planning to stop by National and pick up a quarter pork loin, sliced, on special just now, and I'll cook:

STUFFED PORK CHOPS

(When I make this dish, if the chops are sliced a little thick, I cut a slit in each chop to hold the cornbread stuffing; if the chops are sliced thin, I sandwich two chops together, with the stuffing in between—I like 'em either way).

8 pork chops
Oil or non-stick spray for pan frying as needed
2 cups crumbled cooked cornbread
1 apple, chopped
1/4 cup chopped green onions
1/4 cup chopped bell (green) pepper
Water as needed
Pepper, salt, scant dash of sage.
Insert the stuffing into the slits or pockets in the chops, or sandwich between chops, as above. Pan fry the chops until brown and well done; with no pinkness showing; or sear the chops, then bake for an hour in a 350 degree oven (the method I prefer). If you're using thinner chops and the sandwich method, brown one side of each chop, put them together with the stuffing in between, secure with skewers or toothpicks, and pan fry or bake until fully cooked.

At any rate, for the stuffing: Add enough water to the cornbread to make a moist dressing, and add to it the apples, onions and pepper, which you have sautéed in butter or oil and then have seasoned with salt, pepper and the scant dash of sage.

National has lean pork spareribs on extra-special, and ribs are stars at Winn-Dixie, also. And, if you're hungry for beef-at-a-bargain, take a look at the beef stew meat at Delchamps and Jitney Jungle and, there's even extra lean diet stew (cubed) at Winn-Dixie.

Beef stew is such an old-time "comfort food" especially these up-and-down weather days, isn't it? Here's:

MARINATED BEEF STEW

3 lbs. beef stew meat (cross rib, chuck or rump)
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 cloves
1 bay leaf
1/4 tsp. thyme
1 cup dry red wine

1/4 cup olive oil
2 cups beef stock
3 sprigs parsley
12 small white onions
3 carrots, cut in 2-inch pieces
12 firm mushroom caps
1 cup cooked green beans
In a glass or pottery (not metal) bowl, combine the garlic, salt and pepper, cloves, bay leaf, thyme and wine. Add the meat and marinate two hours or overnight.

Drain meat, reserving marinade. Heat the oil in a deep casserole or Dutch oven, add meat, and cook over low heat until a very dark brown. Stir in the marinade, stock, and parsley and bring to a boil, and cook over high heat 15 minutes.

Cover, reduce heat, and cook 30 minutes over low heat. Add the onions, carrots and mushrooms, cover and cook over low heat an hour and a half or until tender. Mix in beans, heat and adjust seasoning. (Six to eight servings)—from "The French Provincial Cookbook" by Colette Black.

Instead of bemoaning the damage the Yuletide super-freeze did to the tomato supply, use your imagination and your common sense and find something else to mix with the lettuce which is such a good buy at area stores, and mix up a classic green salad with oil and vinegar dressing with a touch of Creole mustard in it; or an orange-and-onion-lettuce bowl; navel oranges are all but spilling over the counters, and yellow onions are specially priced as well. Add a little orange juice to your salad dressing, or spike up a mayonnaise dressing with orange juice and bits or orange zest for a tasty change.

Or use some of the broccoli on sale at Winn-Dixie, for example, along with carrots from Delchamps, in your green salad. Use them raw, or blanch slightly, as you choose. Add onion slices or pieces, cheese cubes or strips, or whatever suits your fancy and is on hand in the kitchen. Add bits or slivers of ham or chicken or cooked beef, and you've a main dish salad.

And, what about the special values on canned vegetables these days at the stores? For salads or vegetable side dishes or other uses, you'll be glad you added some of them to your shopping cart.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

So, what if the Yuletide freezing weather and subsequent rains and such devastated the tomato crops and sent tomato prices sky high and higher? Use your imagination—there's ever so much more to salads than tomatoes, and the new crop isn't too far away!

As for me, I find a good green salad, with a variety of lettuces or other greens, hard to improve upon. A tasty dressing, lavishly with the olive oil, stinging with the vinegar or lemon juice and seasoned to taste, is just about my favorite.

Often I add a little Creole mustard to the dressing, at times I crumble a little Roquefort cheese in, and so on for variety. My father used to insist on a "chapon" for his green salad, a small piece of French bread, rubbed with a cut toe of garlic, dropped into the salad bowl and tossed along with the salad, then removed before serving the salad. Others prefer to rub the salad bowl with garlic, and still others want no part of it at all!

One of the easiest and most taste-tantalizing salads for winter-jaded palates is "Wilted Lettuce," crisp lettuce (or other tender greens) with a hot bacon "gravy" or dressing poured over just before serving. A real favorite of mine, and so easy—perhaps that's why! Here's:

WILTED LETTUCE

Lettuce for 4 salads, bite-sized pieces

4 strips bacon, diced
Bacon drippings
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
Pepper as desired
1/4 tsp. dry mustard, optional
2 Tblsp. vinegar
Tear or shred greens as you wish and place in salad or other bowl. Cook the bacon crisp. To the bacon and drippings, add the remaining ingredients, except, of course, the lettuce.

Bring the sauce to a boil, stirring constantly then pour over the lettuce. Toss lightly and serve at once. Remember, the dressing must be hot and must be poured over immediately before serving. (Four servings.)

Note: In the recent recipe for Mini-Drums in Beer Sauce, I dropped a phrase from the last paragraph. It should have read: "Serve the chicken wings hot, with the remainder of the marinade, 'boiled-up' (brought to a boil and simmered a bit to cook any juices) before spooning over chicken, etc."

Microwave ovens

Almost a necessity
in today's kitchen

Few kitchens of the 1990s will be considered complete without a microwave oven. It's the all-family appliance, used more by all household members—especially kids—than any other major appliance.

And even serious cooks have discovered the microwave oven's usefulness and made it part of their cooking repertoire.

Most people who love microwave cooking point to its speed and convenience. Cooks who are new to microwaving will also be impressed with the following: Energy savings: up to 75 percent versus conventional cooking, depending on the food.

Easy clean-up: a damp cloth handles most spills, which don't cook on the walls or floor because they stay cool.

Better nutrition: vegetables and fruits not only retain their color and freshness, they also retain their nutritive value better, because cooking times are shorter and less liquid is used. The safest way to use your microwave oven is to

De-bone meat and cook it slowly at a lower temperature.

Bone, which is dense, shields the tissue around it. That may keep the shielded area from heating through.

Remove large bones from meat before microwaving, and cook the deboned portion using the middle temperature range settings.

Slower cooking at lower temperatures ensure more even heating. Rotating meat several times during cooking helps too.

Carefully observe the cookbook standing time.

As liquid inside the sealed glass jar heats and expands, pressure can build up, causing the jar to explode. Cakes have been reported where the explosion blew the oven door open.

When shopping for a microwave oven, it's best to rely on your past experience, to find find the features you need.

Always consider the following: Wattage, is the oven powerful enough for your needs?

Capacity, is the cavity large enough?

Does the unit have a variety of power settings for different foods?

Can you program or select enough time to cook your favorite dishes?

Does the unit offer additional special features you want? Cooking rack, temperature probe, automatic cooking, rotating turntable, or combination cooking in the same cavity.

A microwave oven that meets your needs will delight your entire household, and please answer the question "Why microwave?"

George Washington and trees share spotlight in February

It is heart warming to learn that so many generous people are giving trees and participating in the February month-long tree planting program going on in Hancock County. Weather is favorable for planting, and when trees are properly planted and cared for, success is assured.

How should these trees be planted? John Burroughs, who made a name for himself as a naturalist, wrote a letter to a friend giving advice on tree planting. This is what he said:

"Take the tree roots plenty of room and fill the hole with forest soil. Do not mix with your hands. The roots are soft and tender and should be handled gently. It is important to know how to dig a hole."

"If you are to lift the tree gently, use the shovel or a saw to cut the roots. To let these delicate roots dry—even in a hot sun—sure to a living root and a tree will grow."

It is also suggested that the tree be planted in a level that it originally had or less than an inch lower. Dig the hole deeper and wider than the roots require. Fill to the extra depth with peat moss, leaves, or paper. Firmly tramp down the earth. The ground should be moist—not muddy—during the tree's first year of life.

Many interesting legends and myths about trees add interest to our history including the Indians who lived in trees, worshiped the spirits that lived in trees.

In the early days, they held sacred the oak tree and also mistletoe. And we do ever the often repeated yarn about how our first president, George Washington, when a lad chopped down a cherry tree.

Whether this act—if it ever happened—proved that Washington did not tell a lie is a question. But our first president, Feb. 22 as a young man, Washington, born Feb. 22, 1732.

It is interesting to note that Washington was 57 years old when the people chose him as the first president.

On April 16 he left Mount Vernon for a brief eight-day trip to New York. The path took him through Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Today and by jet that trip would require about an hour's time. The trip was a great feat. There were few rest stops, speeches and "the hands played."

As Washington neared New York by water, thousands wanted at the wharf, canoes boomed, flag flying ships waved a welcome.

Washington waited another week before his inauguration. One that day, he wore a brown wool suit that was made in the United States, took his oath of office with his hand on a Bible borrowed from a group of Masons, kissed the Bible and said, "I swear, so help me God."

George Washington, "first in the hearts of his countrymen." He still is. Fly your flag recently, thankfully.

At long last we have come to recognize the tree as man's best friend. In answer to the question "How could we live without trees?" The answer is, "We couldn't."

Trees help to supply the oxygen we breathe. Our atmosphere kept fresh as trees use the carbon dioxide we exhale and that factories and engines emit.

Trees give us lumber, paper, nuts, fruits, gums, syrups. They cut down noise pollution and provide shelter for birds and other wildlife creatures. They provide our State of Mississippi with economic growth.

Tree laws now are in effect in a recent court case, a Gulf port business man pleaded guilty to violating tree law. He was fined $268 and ordered to donate two trees for planting in a public park.

Apparently tree laws vary from one location to another. It is suggested that concerned citizens determine whether their area has a tree law protection and if so, learn which trees are included. Tree protection ordinances are new and in time will hopefully lead to a more uniform regulation.

Volunteers may God bless them, are taking action. The community involvement and report responses have been stimulating. The goal is "involvement."

The build-up of carbon dioxide and other chemicals in the atmosphere is creating a new inner ozone layer that is trapping this intense heat which would otherwise radiate into space. Planting trees is an effective method of combating this "greenhouse effect."

According to a recent study, an urban tree can be 10 to 15 times more effective in reducing carbon dioxide levels than a forest tree. Urban trees not only convert carbon dioxide to oxygen, but also cool urban "hot-spots," thereby reducing energy consumption and carbon dioxide emissions.

Unfortunately, indications are that many more trees are being removed from our cities than are being planted. A survey conducted by the American Forestry Association in 1986 showed that only one out of four trees being removed from our city streets, parks and other public properties is being replaced.

Relief Mississippi, a spinoff of the National Global Relief Campaign, is a statewide campaign aimed at reducing carbon dioxide build-up in the earth's atmosphere through the planting of trees.

Both campaigns encourage citizens to get involved in caring for the world in which we live.

Freezing conditions entitle Hancock business owners to disaster loan assistance

Jack Spradling, U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) district director, announced SBA administrator Susan Engleleiter has declared the following Mississippi counties a disaster area: Amite, Hancock, Pearl River and Pike.

According to Spradling, "This declaration made SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) assistance available to businesses who suffered losses due to freezing conditions which occurred during December 1989."

Due to the passage of the Consolidated Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (PL 99-272), agricultural enterprises, as defined in Section 18(b) (1) of the Small Business Act, are not eligible for either physical or economic injury disaster loan assistance from the SBA.

Businesses that experienced serious disruption because of this disaster may apply for EIDL's to permit them to meet financial obligations that could have been met had the disaster not occurred.

Any small non-farm business located in one of the four declared counties that sustained substantial economic injury as a direct result of the freeze is eligible to apply for assistance.

To qualify for an EIDL, the business must be unable to obtain funds from other sources and must meet SBA's definition of a small business. An EIDL may be up to $500,000; however, a single business applicant may not receive more than $500,000 in any combination of loans from SBA because of this disaster. These loans carry a four percent interest rate with repayment terms up to 30 years.

Assistance and forms are also available from any SBA office or by writing or calling the SBA Disaster Assistance Division, Area 2, 120 Ralph McGill Boulevard, 14th Floor, Atlanta, GA 30308. The toll-free telephone number is 1-800-334-0309. Calls will be taken between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. (eastern time).

on weekdays. The deadline for filing EIDL applications is Nov. 6.

Planting trees, an effective method of combating "greenhouse effect"

Planting a yard tree is one of the most things in life we can do for future generations. With the destruction of the ozone layer, the sun's rays enter the earth's atmosphere with a much higher intensity than before.

ON ETV

JAMES BALDWIN

Although he spent a great deal of his life abroad, James Baldwin always remained a quintessentially American writer. Whether in Paris or Istanbul, he never ceased to reflect on his experience as a black man in white America.

The eloquent voice of James Baldwin, with all its power to engage, enrage and inspire, is explored when "American Masters" presents a rich and textured portrait of this powerful author in "James Baldwin: The Price of the Ticket" at 9:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 15, on Mississippi ETV.

Much of Baldwin's story is told in his own words, as the film makes extensive use of public speeches Baldwin made as well as interviews conducted with the writer over the course of his life.

Complementing the archival footage are interviews with many of his closest friends and colleagues, including William Styron, Mays Angelou and Toni Morrison.

AFDC recipients may work census without reduction of benefits

Recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) will be able to work for the Decennial Census without having their AFDC benefits reduced.

The state of Mississippi has agreed not to reduce the earned income of short-term census employees, in order to encourage members of families with dependent children to apply for temporary census work.

The exemption will cover all non-permanent Decennial Census employees for any work performed between April 1, 1990 and Aug. 31, 1990.

The U.S. Bureau of the Census has issued a call for Mississippi residents to apply for temporary jobs. Census work will last 2 to 8 weeks and will pay an hourly wage plus mileage for any official use of a private vehicle.

Applicants must be 18 years old or over, be a U.S. citizen, have a valid driver's license a Social Security Card, and must take a written test.

Those interested in temporary work should call the nearest Census Office: Gulfport/Biloxi (601) 385-5200.

SPORTS

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1990-1B

TIME OUT

By Dena Bisnette

Has anybody in Hancock County considered taking up race-walking lately?

I saw race-walking on ESPN a couple of times and it impressed me as the perfect sport for today's rushed lifestyle.

And, I know we have plenty of people who like to walk because I see them on the track at Hancock Medical Center every day.

There were a couple of rainy weeks when I didn't expect to see anybody, but I even spotted one person strolling around the track with an umbrella.

Maybe walking races could be staged there on Saturday mornings.

The second annual Arbor Day 5K Run and One Mile Health Run and Walk will be Saturday, Feb. 24, beginning at 9 a.m. at Biloxi City Hall.

Sponsors for the event are the Environmental Advisory Board, City of Biloxi and McDonalds. Gulf Coast Running Club is hosting.

If your entry is postmarked before Saturday, you can enter for $6 if you're a member of Gulf Coast Running Club. Non-member fees is $7 with early registration. Registration will also be accepted on race day, when the fee will be $8.

Children 12 and younger who want to enter the one-mile event pay $5 on race day.

For more information, contact Lindo Sullivan of Gulf Coast Running Club at 832-6701 or Deanna Nuwer at 388-4546.

For those who want to try a longer distance, the 12th annual Gulf Coast Classic will be run Saturday, March 3, beginning at 9 a.m. with a two-mile health run followed by the 10K at 9:15. Both begin at the Naval Construction Battalion Center in Gulfport.

Pizza Hut and Bud Light are sponsors for the Gulf Coast Running Club event. Pre-registration forms are available locally at Pizza Hut.

There will be a pre-race social the night before at Best Western Motel on US-90, Gulfport, with complimentary pizza and drinks. Before and after the race, showers will be available—and there will be a post-race social with spaghetti dinners supplied by Pizza Hut.

Don't forget the Great Day of Soccer at Milner Stadium in Gulfport Saturday.

The event will include basic skills competition for youngsters who already have some soccer experience. Information may be obtained through Bay Area Youth Soccer or other coast soccer leagues or through the Coca-Cola company at Gulfport.

Saturday, Feb. 24, is the registration deadline for a junior camp at Tennis World in Diamondhead.

Tennis Pro Magnus Eklund said the camp will be from noon to 3 p.m. each day Feb. 26-28 and March 1-2, with Mardi Gras off as a holiday.

Intermediate and advanced juniors will be divided into groups with not more than five students per instructor.

To register, send the $30 registration fee and your name, sex, age and telephone number to Eklund at Tennis World, 5300 Diamondhead Circle, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

For more information, call 255-2525, ext. 300.

Registration is also now being taken for the Magnus Eklund School of Tennis, which begins the week of March 6.

Classes will be included for all levels, with fees for juniors set at $28 for the six-week session and adults fees set at $35. Classes will be about two hours long.

A special clinic on doubles strategy for adults is also being offered at $35. This clinic is also scheduled to last six weeks.

For the younger set, Eklund is offering Mighty Mites, a class for children four to seven years old. The fee for that class is also $28.

For those who can't decide between aerobics and tennis, Eklund has combined the two into a class called "tennis aerobics." It will also last six weeks and the fee is $25.

For registration information, call 255-2525 and ask for extension 300.

Lady Hawks remain play-off competitors

Hancock North Central will take on the d'Iberville Lady Warriors tonight in the Division 8, Class 4-A women's basketball title.

The Lady Hawks will have the advantage of the home court in tonight's game, having defeated Long Beach 54-58 to qualify for the title game.

D'Iberville won on two charity tosses in the overtime of a 32-34 game with St. Martin Tuesday. Results from Wednesday night's boys games, including St. Stanislaus facing Hancock North Central, were not available by The Sea Coast Echo's press deadlines.

In the 3-A playoff at Carriere Tuesday, the Bay High Tiger boys got knocked out of competition by the Pearl River Central Blue Devils in a 69-51 contest.

Pearl River's ladies also took Bay High out of first round competition, defeating the Tigerettes 52-39.

Necaise's William Carey jersey to be retired at Feb. 26 game

BY DENA BISNETTE

E. Michael Necaise, now chancery clerk of Hancock County but better known by local sports fans for the basketball records he established at Bay High and William Carey College, will soon have two retired jerseys.

His high school jersey, #14, was retired several years ago. Along with a photograph of Necaise and other basketball memorabilia, that jersey is displayed in the lobby of Bay High's gymnasium.

His college jersey, #24, will be retired in a Feb. 26 ceremony at William Carey College.

The ceremony will take place during the halftime of the William Carey Crusaders-Mobile College basketball game, which begins at 7:30 p.m. On hand for the ceremony will be Dr. James Edwards, president of the school, and Necaise's coach, John O'Keefe, who now is head coach at Forrest County AHS in Brooklyn.

The present Crusaders' coach, Steve Knight, said he remembers watching Necaise, a 1967 graduate of Bay High, play at William Carey.

"I was 12 years old when Mike Necaise played. I grew up watching him play," Knight said.

"Mike was the first All-American at William Carey and I think he was the best player who ever wore a Carey uniform."

"This (jersey retirement) was something we all wanted to do because he has meant so much to William Carey basketball."

Several of the records the left-handed, six-foot-five Necaise established from 1967 until he graduated in 1971 still stand. Knight said only one student has come close to his all-time leading scorers' record, 2,064 points in his career, but fell four points short of breaking it.

He attained 23 field goals in a single game against Baptist Christian College during the 1968-69 season, another record which still stands.

And, no one has ever broken his record for the best scoring average per game during a single season, 29.1 points per game in his senior year.

All this occurred during four years when Carey had 60 victories and 38 defeats.

In his first game for the Crusaders, Necaise contributed 42 points to their 83-75 defeat of the Pensacola Naval Station team.

His statistics for that game alone included 16 successful field goals in 23 attempts, completion of 10 out of 12 free throws and 15 rebounds—all by a freshman starting his first game.

"Just to have records that stand for 20 years says a great deal about his playing ability," Knight stated.

Necaise is presently second in career average points per game, 21.5 during the four years he played. That record was broken in the late 1970s, Knight said.

Among the honors Necaise received during his college career were selection to the National Association of inter-collegiate Athletics second team in 1970-71 and NAIA honorable mentions for the two preceding seasons.

He also saw little bench time. "Every game he was healthy, he started for four years," Knight remembered.

William Carey almost lost Necaise to Mississippi State. Offered nearly 100 scholarships after attaining a 41.9 average per game in his senior year, he signed with State but a Southeastern Conference rule required an ACT score only two points higher than Necaise's.

He then chose his uncle Doug "Spider" Necaise's old school, William Carey.

Necaise coached for nearly 10 years at Bay High and Harrison Central before giving up basketball for politics.

He and his wife, Jo Ellen Necaise, have two sons, both of whom are members of their father's old high school team. Everett Michael Necaise Jr., better known as Micah Necaise, is an 18-year-old senior and his younger brother Brian is 15.

Bay Area Youth Soccer spring competition underway

Bay Area Youth Soccer inter-league spring season competition is well underway and is being influenced by the spring weather.

In girls' competition, Coach Bernard Tusa's Under-12 Girls Take-One Video team continues to remain undefeated for the spring season.

In Under-10 Boys competition, Coach Ross' team went head to head with Coach Vanney's Cyclones that ended in a 0-0 tie in a league game played on Feb. 3.

That same day, Coach Arce's Warriors defeated Coach Schwartz's S&H Grocery team in a hard fought contest. Games were rained out on Feb. 10, however, league games were completed Feb. 11 in less than ideal conditions.

Coach Flowers' Falcons defeated Coach Arce's Warriors with mud and water exploding under the thunder of soccer cleats. Goals for the Falcons were scored by Kile Foster, Mike Flowers, Jay Saucier and Scott Courge.

In Under-12 play, Coach Flowers' Pirates attended a Spring Tournament in Independence, La. on Feb. 3 and 4 and finished with one win, one tie, and one loss in the rain and mud. The weather has definitely made competition difficult.

In Under-14 Girls competition, Coach Doni's girls defeated the Ocean Springs girls in a double header on Saturday Feb. 10.

Coach Ross' Under-14 Boys Select Team defeated the Hammond Select Team on Feb. 11 by a score of 3-2 and 7-0 in an afternoon doubleheader.

The USM Soccer Clinic held on Sunday, Feb. 4 was a booming success. Fifty-six area soccer players got a great kick out of the clinic conducted by Dr. Frank Lamser's team.

Assisting Dr. Lamser were assistant coach Jaime Arellana from El Salvador and players Robyn Jones from Wales, Stacy Walker from Vicksburg, Stewart Cameron from Hattiesburg, Tommy Cason of Brian Hoo-boosky from Slidell, Briar Dodd of Memphis, Mark Straton from Atlanta, Tim Davis from North Carolina, Denny Currier of St. Louis, and local player Eddie Bourgeois.

On Feb. 11 the BAYS Coke Sting U-14 Select Team went to Hattiesburg for a follow-up clinic for advanced skills and training. The proceeds from both clinics will assist the USM's planned soccer excursion to London, England. Coke will play its first league game of the season against Jackson this weekend.

Everyone is also invited to participate in the Great Day of Soccer to be held in Gulfport on Feb. 17.

Adult Literacy
Education

Tutoring sessions for adults who want to learn to read and write are available through the Hancock County Library System. The program is open free of charge to any adult aged 16 and above who wants to improve reading skills to a grade five level.

Each student meets one-on-one with a certified tutor trained in the use of the Laubach Adult Literacy method. Student/tutor units meet at a time and learning center convenient to both. Learning centers for literacy are currently located in Bay St. Louis, Kilo, Waveland, Diamondhead, Dedeaux, Clermont Harbor and Pearlinton.

Call the Bay St. Louis Library, 467-5282, for information. Persons who wish to teach adults to read as volunteer literacy tutors are also encouraged to call.

Blood Pressure

Retired Senior Volunteer Program sponsors free blood pressure testing Tuesdays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., American Legion Post No. 77, Waveland; Wednesdays, 10:30-11:30 a.m., RSVP office, Senior Citizens Center, Old Spanish Trail, Bay St. Louis.

Hancock Medical Center Women's Auxiliary (Pink Ladies) conducts free blood pressure testing at the hospital, 10-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays.

Legal Line

Volunteer attorneys answer legal questions from the general public from 6 to 7 p.m., first Wednesdays at 1-374-4160. The service is sponsored by Harrison County Young Lawyers, South Mississippi Planning and Development District Area Agency on Aging and South Mississippi Legal Services Corporation.

Money
Management

The Consumer Money Management Center serves the public by providing free financial consultations as well as informational literature and seminars for employers, educational institutions and civic and professional groups.

Information and assistance from the center relates to various aspects of personal money management including budgeting, credit repayment, insurance, and investments.

The service is sponsored by Mississippi State University and Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. To set up an appointment call Hancock County Extension Office, 467-5456.

Senior Center

Located in the Valena C. Jones Bldg. at 301 Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis, the center serves Hancock County citizens 60 plus years of age.

Under the Hancock County Human Resource Agency, the center provides classes in ceramics, macrame, art, quilting, counted cross stitch, silk flowers, Christmas ornaments, framing, wood working and various other crafts. A morning snack is provided with donations from various clubs and businesses.

The center has a contract to provide 30 home delivered meals a day to those seniors who cannot provide for themselves, and 35 meals for those who have a need for a hot well-balanced meal daily in the cafeteria at the center.

Transportation is provided through a contract with Coast Area Transportation for most seniors in the county to bring them into the center, or to take them to the grocery, doctor, etc.

The contract with Methodist Senior Services provides two homemakers for about two hours a week to homebound, needy seniors to do light house-keeping or errands for them.

For more information, call the center at 467-9292 from 7:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Senior Citizen
Jobs

Seniors Job Registry, Russell Youth Court Building, 126 Court Street, Bay St. Louis, offers placement services to employees and employers.

The registry is a free community service provided by National Council of Senior Citizens Senior Aides Program funded by the Department of Labor through South Mississippi Planning and Development District.

The registry attempts to place seniors 55 years old or older in hourly, daily, weekly or monthly positions, according to Gertrude Sauer, coordinator.

Call 467-7945 for additional information. Office hours are 8 a.m. to noon Mondays through Fridays.

Redneck Cajun tournament offers big prizes on Pearl River

The second annual Redneck Cajun team bass tournament on the Pearl River has been scheduled for Sunday, March 4.

Sponsored jointly by the Bonne Carre Bassmasters of Destrehan, La. and the Topwater Anglers of Picayune, the tournament last year drew 78 teams and was a well-run and popular event.

This year's entry fee will be $60 per team with an increased payout through the top 20 teams.

On a full field of 100 boats, first place will pay $1,200 with $600, $400, $300 and $150 going to the next four places.

Sixth through 20th places will pocket $60. The top male/female team will win a bonus of $100 while the winning team will win another $1,000 if fishing with a team-owned Yamaha outboard that is still under warranty.

In addition to the cash and trophies going to the winning teams, many door prizes will be given away also.

Entry forms can be found at most bait and tackle outlets or checks may be sent with all team information to: Topwater Anglers, Rt. 5 Box 544, Picayune, MS 39466.

Call 798-1910 or (504) 764-2549 for more information.

MSU, LSU to vie Friday night

Nationally ranked Mississippi State and LSU meet in the opening night feature game of Anheuser-Busch Challenge IV in the Louisiana Superdome on Friday, Feb. 16.

Seventh-ranked Mississippi State and 14th-ranked LSU will meet in Friday's 7 p.m. game.

Tulane and Ole Miss open Friday's action at 1 p.m. and the University of New Orleans and Southern Mississippi meet at 4 p.m. Mississippi State, LSU and UNO all participated in last year's NCAA regional playoffs.

The rest of the schedule for the Anheuser-Busch Challenge:

Saturday, Feb. 17, 1 p.m., UNO vs. Mississippi state; 4 p.m., LSU vs Ole Miss; 7 p.m., Tulane vs. USM.

Sunday, Feb. 18, noon, LSU vs. USM; 3 p.m., Tulane vs. Mississippi State; 6 p.m., UNO vs. Ole Miss.

The state that wins at least five of the nine games is the event champion. Louisiana defeated Florida in the first Challenge but lost to California and Oklahoma in the last two. Each Challenge has been split 5-4 in games.

LSU, Tulane and UNO baseball cards will be given away to the first 2,500 spectators each day and the first 8,000 people into the Superdome Sunday will receive Anheuser-Busch Challenge drinking mugs.

Clark, McDonald to headline
Lykes Clinic in Superdome

San Francisco's Will Clark and Baltimore's Ben McDonald head the cast of instructors for the Lykes Kids Clinic to be held in the Superdome in conjunction with Anheuser-Busch Challenge IV.

Clark, the holder of the richest contract in baseball history, and McDonald, the first player selected in last year's draft, will appear in the Lykes Clinic, which begins at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 17.

Other major leaguers scheduled to participate in the clinic are Kansas City's Frank White, Cleveland's Mark Higgins, and the New York Yankees' Kevin Mmahat and former Yankee Johnny Kucks.

The Anheuser-Busch Challenge is a college baseball tournament featuring LSU, Tulane and the University of New Orleans against three teams from another state.

The opposition this year will be provided by Mississippi State, Ole Miss and Southern Mississippi. LSU, UNO and Mississippi State all were in the 1989 NCAA playoffs.

The clinic instructors—including several minor league players—are former players for the six participating schools.

Using light line will mean more fish

If you want to catch more bass, then switch to light line. That's the advice of Johnson Outboards Pro Staff Angler Guido Hibdon, considered by many to be one of America's finest light tackle bass fishermen. He regularly uses lines testing as low as six and eight pounds, even in the heavy-bass waters of Florida.

"Light line gives your lure a totally different presentation," explained Hibdon, winner of the 1988 Bass Masters Classic. "Lures look more natural because they aren't pulling a heavier, stiffer line through the water."

"If you're careful, and recognize the limitations of light line, you can do anything with it you can do with heavier line. I regularly flip into thick cover with 12 and 14-pound test line, but most anglers use 20 to 3-pound test."

The Johnson pro made a believer out of many light line skeptics recently when he landed an 11-pound, 8-ounce largemouth from Lake Okeechobee's grassbeds on six-pound test line.

"I could see the bass in the clear water," Hibdon recalls, "and I made at least a dozen casts to her with eight-pound test line, putting my lure right in front of her."

"She never looked at the lure, but instead, looked at the line. She could see it, and realized something was wrong."

Before he cast with the lighter, thinner six-pound test line, however, Hibdon resorted to a trick taught by his father years ago in the clear Missouri lakes where Hibdon learned to fish. He used a marking pen and "camouflaged" the line with black marks every three or four inches for several feet above his lure.

"The marks made the line appear broken and less noticeable," laughs Hibdon, who has used this trick in several other professional tournaments. The bass grabbed the lure on the first cast.

"When bass are very spooky and hesitant to chase lures, either because of weather conditions, heavy fishing pressure, or clear water," Hibdon adds, "light line will give you an extra edge."

"I have often fished down a bank right behind other anglers who were using much heavier line and caught fish when they weren't getting any strikes at all."

Using light line also means using rods designed specifically for that purpose, Hibdon emphasizes. He prefers a six and one-half foot spinning rod with a very limber tip. This light action provides a cushion against line breakage so the rod plays the fish, not the line.

"I check the line often for abrasions, and re-tie my knots after catching two or three fish," he notes. "Line is the least expensive item in my tackle box, but it's probably the most important item, because it is my direct connection to the bass. If you take care of your line, I think it will take care of you."

The service experts at Johnson Outboards and Evinrude Outboards recommend that bass boaters and other high performance enthusiasts install a water pressure gauge on their boat.

Outboards can lose water pressure if the motor is trimmed or raised too high, or if the water intake is covered with weeds or mud. Loss of water pressure can lead to overheating. A water pressure gauge gives earlier warning of trouble than an engine temperature gauge.

WAYLON JENNINGS
Country music legend Waylon Jennings and up-and-coming super picker/singer/songwriter Marty Stuart perform their unique brand of outlaw country and hillbilly rock on "Austin City Limits" at 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 17, on Mississippi ETV.

Jennings has the audience in the "Austin City Limits" studios cheering, dancing and singing along to all of his hits in this show—a definite crowd pleaser.

He performs "Ramblin' Man," "I've Always Been Crazy," "Luckenbach, Texas," and "Me and Bobby McGhee."

On his second "Austin City Limits" appearance, Stuart demonstrates his special brand of hillbilly rock on the songs "Cry, Cry, Cry," "Hillbilly Rock," "Don't Leave Her Lonely" and "Paint the Town."

Nasturtiums honored in their year—1990

By Dr. Milo Burnham

Horticulturist
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Nasturtiums are not among the most popular flowering annuals in the South, yet, the National Garden Bureau Inc., a non-profit educational service of the North American home garden seed industry, has named 1990 as the Year of the Nasturtium. Why?

The plants can occasionally be found in Mississippi spring bedding plant displays, but are thoroughly overpowered and outshined by salvia, begonia, petunias, impatiens, marigolds and almost everything else.

Light textured, sandy soils are best since they are well drained, well leached and therefore of low fertility.

Fertile soils result in vigorous plants with few flowers while heavy, moisture holding soils may lead to seed and plant destroying rots. The seeds require complete darkness to germinate so plant them about one inch deep.

The most attractive displays of nasturtiums I've ever seen were in San Francisco and Cambridge, England. Both areas have relatively cool, moist climates in which nasturtiums seem to prefer.

The plants are generally consisted of the trailing type. They were planted in beds along the bank of a stream and the trailing plants on the lower covered the banks cascading right into the water.

Even though nasturtiums do best in well-drained soils, they are not drought tolerant and require water to prevent wilting during dry spells.

Like most of the flowering plants, nasturtiums are susceptible to insect and disease problems.

in Mississippi Gardens

Packets of nasturtium seeds are available in department stores and seed catalogs. They are also available in the Mississippi Garden Seed Industry, which is a non-profit educational service of the North American home garden seed industry, has named 1990 as the Year of the Nasturtium. Why?

Everything you need to close down a crackhouse.

You aren't helpless when crime invades your neighborhood. You're fully capable of helping police and they're ready to show you how.

The case of The Stanton Park Stand-off.

When crack moved into a row house on a quiet block of Stanton Park, folks decided to serve an eviction notice.

They met with police to find out what they could do to keep drugs out of their neighborhood.

The cops told them to keep an eye out—to let police know whenever something suspicious happened. They began to notice faces.

They wrote down license numbers of strange cars. They noted the times of odd behavior. They worked with each other. They worked with the police.

Armed with field glasses, note pads and telephones, folks kept track of the neighborhood.

Within one month, enough evidence had been gathered. Police moved in. Crack moved out. Citizen participation beat crime in D.C. It can do the same for you.

For more success stories, write: The McGruff Files, 1 Prevention Way, Washington, D.C. 20539-0001.

Police become even more responsive when their people are their partners.

Together we can help...

Ziegler named Extension Homemaker of the Year

The Hancock County Extension Homemakers honored Tommie Ziegler of Waveland with their prestigious Homemaker of the Year Award.

Mrs. Ziegler received an engraved silver tray for work done as chairman of the Cultural Arts Fair, co-chairman of monthly cultural arts demonstrations, vice-president of the County Extension Homemakers Council and other club and community involvements.

Also honored was Mrs. Ethel Favre of Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Favre has served as extension secretary in Hancock County for 45 years. Always ready to lend a helping hand, she's become invaluable to the extension staff as well as extension clientele. Because of her untiring efforts to help others, the homemakers presented Mrs. Favre their Friend of Extension Award.

Others receiving recognition were Wanda Berthelot, Lakeshore Homemaker Club; Mary Werner, Learning Ladies Homemaker Club; and Margie Welsh, Riverview Homemaker Club as outstanding club members.

Riverview Homemaker Club won first place for their club scrapbook, first place for their secretary's record book and the Membership Award. Learning Ladies Homemaker club won second place on their secretary's record book.

Officers for 1990 presented during the program are Wanda Berthelot, president; Tommie Ziegler, vice president; Rose Gasser, secretary; Ethel Breau, treasurer; and Charlotte Edwards, parliamentarian.

Special guests included District Three Supervisor Lisa Coward, Chancery Clerk Michael Necaize and Board Secretary Terry Guenard.

The club having the most members in attendance was Riverview.

Mrs. Patsy Hill, Make-A-Wish Foundation, was presented a $100 check from Learning Ladies to be used to grant terminally ill children a wish.

The awards program was held at First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

Decorations featured the council colors of royal blue and gold in streamers, centerpieces and balloons.

"Living, Learning, Leading," the Mississippi Extension Homemaker Council theme for 1990, is descriptive of the work club members do in their local communities.

Living—The quality of life we experience should be the best that it can be.

Learning—New technological skills must be mastered. Literature, music and folk arts of the past can be learned to enrich our lives today.

Leading—The knowledge and the skills that we gain can be translated into the betterment of the life of the community as we take on leadership roles and share with others.

Jourdan River Shores Property Owners

The quarterly meeting of the Jourdan River Shores Property Owners Association was held at the club house in Hwy. 603 on Saturday, Feb. 10. Approximately 45 members attended.

President Lynn N. Curet led the meeting through a number of items of old and new business, including the rules governing the next election of officers scheduled for Sunday, May 6.

The floor was turned over to Dwight Bradshaw, who had been invited to explain the NASA proposal to test the experimental ASRM at the Stennis Space Center.

Many of those attending were, at the onset, only vaguely aware of this potential hazard to their community. Since the Jourdan River Shores development is less than ten miles from the test site, others had already expressed concern over the possibility of fallout from the large scale release of hydrochloric acid, chlorine gas and finely powdered aluminum oxide which accompanies each test firing.

Diamondhead AARP 4228

Diamondhead AARP 4228 continued with their discussion of health care by inviting Garry Ruff Sr., supervisor of health, safety and environment, DuPont Co. DeLisle plant, to speak at their Feb. 6 meeting.

Ruff spoke on how DuPont is protecting the environment and the effect of their expansion on the environment. The company is doubling the capacity of the plant in the next several years with no increase in land, employees and total air emissions.

Noting that through constant monitoring and the use of the best technology available, the threat of an emergency is precluded, and after expansion, total air emissions from the plant will be even less than before.

Patricia Bales, licensed Medicare specialist, Physicians Mutual Insurance Co., detailed the four types of Medicare supplement policies available and warned of the pitfalls to be aware of when purchasing these policies.

Legislative chairman Juanita Brinsmade, informed members on the ASRM project, the status of resurfacing of the County Road and the need for a county leash law.

A trip to the Saenger Theatre in New Orleans has been arranged for Tuesday, March 13 at 8 p.m. The bus will leave the Diamondhead Shopping Center at 6:15 p.m. The play is 'Rumors,' starring Jamie Farr and Dick Van Patten.

Once again there will be assistance with the filing of federal taxes provided by the Tax Aide Program of AARP. Workers are available at the Bay St. Louis Library on Thursdays from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. and also at the west wing of the Community Center in Diamondhead on Thursdays from 1:30-4:30 p.m.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 6 at 3 p.m. with Betty Stone, Diamondhead resident, to speak on federal tax law changes. Also scheduled is Margaret Grace, whose presentation on recycling should prove to be very interesting.

Garrett selected Senior of Month

SHANNON GARRETT

Shannon Garrett has been named Senior of the Month for January at St. Stanislaus High School.

This special award, which is voted on by the faculty mem-bers at St. Stanislaus, recog-nizes those seniors who display in a unique manner the char-acter traits of sincerity, enthu-siasm, family spirit, involve-ment, observance and responsibility.

Garrett is a member of the varsity football, basketball and track teams; and he was chosen team captain for football and basketball.

He has also won the Mr. Rock-a-Chaw Award in football, basketball and track. He is the son of Blanche Garrett of Bay St. Louis and Leo Garrett.

OLA, SSC students place in science, math tourney

High school students from throughout Mississippi attended the second day of the 16th Mississippi Science and Mathematics Tournament Friday at Mississippi College.

This year's competition involved about 1,600 students representing 185 high schools. They were vying for achievement awards through team and individual competition, including one-hour written exams and flash quizzes.

In Friday's action, the overall winners in morning competition were, first place, Mississippi School for Math and Science of Columbus; second place, Ocean Springs High School; and third place, Tupelo High School.

In afternoon competition, the Mississippi School for Math and Science captured first place honors in Division I followed by Tupelo High School in second place and South Panola High School of Batesville, third place.

Tylertown High School placed first in Division II while Simpson Academy of Mendenhall captured second place, followed by Clarksdale High School in third place.

Local students who took top awards after Friday's tournament included:

Biology Division, (393 tested): Shannon Maggio, Our Lady Academy, third place.

Chemistry Division, (365 tested): Joe Williams, St. Stanislaus High School, third place.

Students from Our Lady Academy who participated included Shannon Maggio, Anna Dean, Kaaren Kolodziej, Heidi Hitt, Catherine Ohman, Christy Bogolin, Lynda Scardino, Jennifer Peneguy and Becca Kinney.

St. Stanislaus High School participants were Do Nguyen, Mike Cromwell, Noah Denson, Marc Distefano, Robert Schutt, Scott Niolet, Joe Williams, George Holder and Anthony Sperance.

Sea Grant to co-sponsor Region VI science fair

The Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium has awarded an educational grant for the 1990 Region VI Science and Engineering Fair, Dr. James I. Jones, Sea Grant director, has announced.

The $1,500 grant will provide trophies for first, second and third place winners in the March 23 competition at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum. Winners are selected for six subject categories in two grade classes for elementary students and for 11 subject categories in three grade classes for junior and senior high school students.

The fair draws students from public and private schools, grades 1-12, in George, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Stone counties. Advancing to regional competition are students who have placed first, second and third in their subject category and grade class in schoolwide or citywide competition. More than 1,300 students are expected to compete in the Region VI fair.

Co-sponsors with Sea Grant are the Naval Oceanographic and Atmospheric Research Laboratory (formerly naval Ocean Research and Development Activity), the University of Southern Mississippi and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College.

Sea Grant, NOAR and USM sponsored the fair on the Coast for the first time in 1986 and continued their joint sponsorship through 1989.

Two international finalists—top winners of the March 23 competition—will represent Region VI at the 41st International Science and Engineering Fair in Tulsa, Okla., May 6-12.

Students in grades 7-12 who place first, second or third in regional competition are eligible to advance to the state fair at Jackson State University, April 20.

HNC Student Council stages Hwy. 603 cleanup

Special to the Echo 'Don't Litter' is the new motto for Hancock North Central's Student Council members. The council adopted a two-mile stretch of Hwy. 603, one mile south and one mile north of the high school entrance, in the Adopt-A-Highway program.

Saturday, Jan. 27, 19 members of the student council joined to clean up their newly adopted section of Hwy. 603.

Members present were Kyle Ahlers, William Foxworth, Darlon Necaise, Shelia Furey, Janie Killen, Rachel Deschamp, Christy Necaise.

Monica Malley, Ginger Roney, Natasha Ladner, Leah Smith, Amy Livingston, Ana Valasquez, Bonnie Smith.

Thomas Sones, Michelle Lee, Melissa Moran, Kim Sones and Russelle Lee. The council worked for four hours filling a total of 50 bags of litter from a two-mile strip.

This experience relayed a strong message to many student council members that an education is important; members learned that this type of work is tiresome and time-consuming. It taught some not to be litter bugs and help keep Mississippi clean.

Gem, mineral society to present 31st annual show

The Mississippi Gem and Mineral Society will present its 31st annual Gem, Mineral, Fossil, Jewelry and Educational Show in the Agriculture and Industry Buildings on the state fairgrounds Saturday, Feb. 24 and Sunday, Feb. 25.

Showtimes are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Donations are $3, adult, and $1.50, student, with free parking adjacent to the buildings.

There will be exhibits by members of the society as well as from visiting clubs, special and working exhibits, movies and slide programs on the earth sciences.

A 'touch and see' table with specimens with regular and braille labels will be displayed. Twenty-one dealers from 16 states with many items one might wish to purchase—gems, minerals, gemstones, finished jewelry, findings with which to make jewelry, equipment and books.

Seven special exhibits will feature dinosaurs and fossil reproductions, channel jewelry, Montana agate and silver jewelry and pieces, carvings and sculptures, petrified wood and two 'Rock Food' tables.

The juniors will have a special area where they will have games, puzzles and door prizes for visiting students.

Poems wanted for contest and anthology

Poems are now being accepted for entry in Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum's new "Awards of Poetic Excellence" poetry contest. Cash prizes totaling $1,000 will be awarded, including a $500 grand prize. The contest is free to enter.

Poets may enter one poem only, 20 lines or less, on any subject, in any style. Contest closes March 31, but poets are encouraged to send their work as soon as possible, since poems entered in the contest also will be considered for publication in the Fall 1990 edition of 'Poetic Voices of America,' a hardcover anthology.

Anthology purchase may be required to insure publication but is not required to be eligible for the prizes. Prize winners will be notified by May 31.

"If you are a new or emerging poet, we especially want to see your work," says William H. Trent, editor. "We are looking for sincerity and originality in a wide variety of styles and themes."

Poem should be sent to Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum Inc., Dept. D, 203 Diamond Street, Sistersville, WV 26175.

Crosby named to DSU Dean's List

A total of 522 students were named to the Dean's List for the recently completed fall semester at Delta State University.

The Dean's List requirement is a 3.2 or higher grade average. Students must carry a minimum academic load of 15 semester hours to qualify.

The honorees include Spurgeon Clark Crosby of Waveland.
